

Library Exercise - Biological and Life Sciences Community

Working in pairs, briefly answer the following questions.

Finding Books:

Using the web version of Addison, list the titles for two of the many books written by Stephen Jay Gould and give their call numbers.

Using Addison, locate a recent book on the topic of ethical aspects of stem cell research and give the title and call number. Is it available or checked-out? Based on the call number on what floor is it located?

Finding Articles:

Step 1. Using one of the article database systems demonstrated in class (Biological Abstracts and Cambridge Scientific Abstracts) locate a recent journal article about protection of endangered species. Provide the article title and the citation (journal title, volume, date, page numbers)

Step 2. Using Addison, determine if we have this journal in our collection in either paper or electronic form and provide the call number.
